WISCONSIN DEER HUNTERS!

I CAN'T AFFORD $2000 FOR THE RIGHT TO HUNT CAN YOU?

WALKER APPOINTEE SAYS HUNTING ON PUBLIC LANDS IS COMMUNISM

Doesn't that headline sound stupid? Deer hunting is a Wisconsin tradition (one that adds more than a billion dollars a year to the state economy), and many people here rely on hunting to feed our families. 638,000 people hunt on Wisconsin public lands every year. But Dr. James Kroll, the new "deer czar" appointed by Gov. Walker, wants to make deer herds the property of wealthy landowners rather than a public resource. That will make hunting a privilege of the wealthy.

Why is Kroll controversial? Kroll is on record as stating that people who want more public hunting opportunities are "pining for socialism" and that "Game Management is the last bastion of communism." In Texas, where they started adopting his model back in 2001 after heavy lobbying by private game farm owners (Kroll owns a 200 acre deer ranch), 95% of hunting is now done on private land, and getting a lease to hunt costs around $2000-$5000 per gun....
